

THINK RIGHT! LIVE RIGHT! IF YOU WANT TO BUILD UP GOOD HEALTH

"You can't argue exercise, cheerfulness and better living to the person who is sick—who is too weak to exercise and unable to eat solid, wholesome food. No sir, you got to give them relief and then you can talk to them."

The above statement is a part of one of the interesting talks that are being given daily by T. S. Jackson, the Wilder Tonic expert, at Hindle's Main and State street store. He continues:

Right living and right thinking are the most important factors in health. Medicine only gives the sick a chance. Don't try to live on Wilderbs or any other medicine. Good food, exercise, recreation, cheerfulness, fresh air, sunshine and work are the everyday needs. You will notice that I do not include tobacco or alcohol. Such stimulants are seldom necessary. Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, when he produced the Wilder treatment, had the interest of each and every sufferer at heart. He wanted you to get over your troubles and be well and strong again. We don't want the Wilder treatment to fall in a single case here and we do not believe it will where the suffering results directly or indirectly from a disordered stomach, intestinal fermentation, or a catarrhal condition of other organs.

Wilderbs (full extract) is composed of the most beneficial plants and herbs known to science. It is entirely vegetable and contains no chemicals to produce violent or sudden effect. Medicines that give immediate stimulation or act strongly on the bowels have an injurious reaction that is dangerous to the system.

The Wilder treatment is none the less powerful in its results. It builds, strengthens and tones the system as fast as nature can correct conditions, and no faster. Any so-called laxative remedy that works quicker than this will do more harm than good. You must gently assist nature. If you will patiently await her slow, but sure action, you will surely regain your health.

Bridgeport people are enthusiastically endorsing the Wilder treatment. "Your Wilderbs has done more for my nervousness than anything I have ever used," said Mrs. William A. Disbrow of 202 Gilbert street. I used to be nervous as a witch. Is it any wonder I recommended it? I suffered from liver trouble, neuritis and neuralgia. I was so nervous I shook like a leaf at times and my eyes would get so weak I couldn't see a thing. This neuritis would cause a pain across my shoulders that would almost paralyze me and the pains from neuralgia were terrible to bear, too. I was so nervous it was almost impossible for me to go to sleep and the next morning I was dead tired and life was not worth living. Wilderbs was recommended to me and I started taking it. After finishing the first bottle I began to "perk" up. My gain in strength is something wonderful. My eyes give me no more trouble and I am no longer subject to nervous attacks. The neuritis pains are gone and I have no more bilious troubles, so now my liver is all right again. I can now get a good night's rest and feel refreshed and strong through the day. I think Wilderbs is a grand medicine. T. S. Jackson is direct from the laboratory and meets the local public daily at Hindle's Main and State street store.—Adv.

Advocating Bonus System for Factory

Before a large gathering of the Manufacturers' association at an informal dinner in The Stratfield last night, Henry R. Cobleigh, president, and Walter N. Polakoff, consulting engineer of the Power Plant Co. of New York city, discussed problems of power production. Both insisted that the worth of the power plant lies in the ability of the employees there to use coal efficiently and economically. They advocated a general bonus system.

Mr. Polakoff suggested that the manufacturers first inspect their power plants and then adopt a system for running the boilers which would develop efficiency and economy. Mr. Cobleigh said in part that the reason the munition manufacturers had not made the money expected was that they had given all attention to saving time in producing their orders and little or none to economy in production.

MERCHANTS PLANNING GET-TOGETHER DINNER

POLICEMEN BARRED FROM RIDING FIRE TRUCKS HEREAFTER

Mrazik's Injuries Cause
Commissioners to Revive Rule

Policemen will be barred from riding on the fire apparatus, according to an order adopted by the fire commissioners at their meeting last night, which was sent to the police commission today. The order calling attention to the rule of the commissioners that none but members of the department may ride on the apparatus was issued because of the injuries suffered by Policeman Andrew Mrazik while riding on Truck 3 which was being driven to a fire Nov. 2. At Seaview and Crescent avenues, workmen were repairing the Warrenite roadway and there was only a narrow passageway in the street. The truck brushed a telegraph pole there and one of Ladderman S. Murphy's toes was broken. Policeman Mrazik was crushed between the truck and the pole and he received injuries from which he has not yet sufficiently recovered to perform duty.

Capt. Edward Madden gave a brief report to the fire commissioners last night. W. R. Hopkins was driving the truck. It has been a common practice for policemen to jump on apparatus and ride to fires within or near their beats. Clark John J. Hines of the board, has been instructed by the commissioners to notify the captains of all fire companies to prevent this practice in the future.

The board meeting was a brief session. It was voted to meet in executive session next Wednesday and discuss appropriations which may be necessary for the coming year and to make preliminary arrangements for the budget which they will ask from the board of apportionment. The commissioners said they have not decided what appropriations for apparatus or new fire houses they might ask for. The board of apportionment will be required to find money to meet the increase in pay of the firemen which the common council is certain to approve next month.

Firemen throughout the state have been very healthy during the past month and up to last night a report was received from the State Firemen's Sick Benefit association saying that there has been no occasion to pay sick benefits since Oct. 1 or up to date.

Wilbur F. Wade requested that a fire hydrant directly in the rear of his home be moved. The hydrant will interfere with passage to a garage he intends to erect which he had vowed that the hydrant be moved provided Mr. Wade pay the expenses. The session lasted only 20 minutes.

STEFANSSON TELLS HOW RESCUE PARTY SHOULD HELP HIM

Washington, Nov. 23.—In a letter to Rear Admiral Peary, made public today, Vilhjalmur Stefansson, commander of the Canadian Arctic Expedition, outlined his plans of exploration for the next two years and explained what steps should be taken to rescue him under certain conditions. "Should nothing be heard of us by November, 1917," Mr. Stefansson wrote, "it is to be presumed that something beyond our control has delayed us. I am of the opinion that in the spring of 1918 a ship or ships should be sent north from the Atlantic to look for us if we have not been heard from."

"My best guess is that the Bear will winter next year on the south coast of Melville Island, but if ice conditions are exceptionally good we may attempt to get indefinitely farther north. I have given the government a list of places at which beacon may be built and records may be left either in 1917 or later by us."

Mr. Stefansson expressed the hope that he would be able to approach so near MacMillan's farthest coming from the west that he could demonstrate the presence or absence of Crocker Land. The letter is dated Cape Kellett, Banks Island, Jan. 11, 1916.

Her hat was of gold lace and her corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. A wedding breakfast for 25 was served at The Stratfield following the ceremony. When Mr. and Mrs. Casey return from their wedding trip they will reside in Merchant street.
